Zoning Advisory Group holds organizational meeting

A Zoning Committee Advisory Group to be known as "Citizens For Better Zoning Committee" and composed of citizen representatives from Romulus' 11 voting precincts, has been formed.

The committee formation was suggested as a public hearing on the defeat of the new Zoning Ordinance by the voters on Aug. 4. The hearing was held before city council at the Romulus Water Board Building.

At the public hearing, attended by the City Planning Commission and many concerned citizens, various views and suggestions were presented regarding the defeat of the zoning ordinance at the polls. Mayor Pro Tem Jimmie Raspberry suggested the citizens committee.

An organizational meeting of the committee was held Aug. 11, in Romulus Junior High School and members were selected from all areas of the city to act as an advisory committee to the Planning Commission.

Last Tuesday session of city council, Councilman William M. Oakley moved that the city council allow the committee to use city council chambers in the Water Building for their meetings. He was supported by Councilman James C. Stewart.

There was much discussion with Councilman Jimmie Raspberry, Edmund W. Bizek and Ellis T. Pennington speaking against the motion. However, on a roll call vote, Councilmen Stewart, Oakley, Fred Junior Block, Brooker R. Edwards and Raspberry voted for the motion.

The committee will use the council meeting room for its first meeting only sometime this week.

March of Dimes picks top woman

A Romulus mother and homemaker was selected as the outstanding Mother's March Chairman by the March of Dimes, 1970 drive, for Wayne County.

Mrs. Sheldon Chandler of Ozga Rd., was honored by members of the Metropolitan Chapter of the March of Dimes, at a dinner held at Topinkas, on Aug. 6.

Mrs. Chandler has been active in Cub Scouts, PTA, and many other community and civic affairs. She lives with her husband, Sheldon, and her three children, Aaron, Shelley and Corey at 9261 Ozga Rd., Romulus.

Mrs. Chandler has been drive chairman for the past three years, topping all records for amounts collected. Last year's Mother's drive in Romulus netted $727, for a combined community contribution of $2,220.17.

City council approves first city budget

By HENRY CANTIN

A proposed general fund operating budget for the 1970-71 year has been approved by Romulus City Council.

City council's action last Thursday in approving the city's first budget following a public hearing held Aug. 13.

There were no objections from city residents at the public hearing.

The total tax rate for the city will remain unchanged in the new budget. Council's vote to adopt the budget was unanimous.

It called for expenditures of $1,570,470 (estimated) and estimated revenues including tax levy of $1,580,000, Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, reported.

The 1970 total tax rate for the city was set as follows:

Wayne County portion $7.16; City of Romulus portion, $11.49. and Romulus Community School District tax levy at $30.68, or a total of $49.33 on each $1,000 property valuation assessment state equalized.

The tax rate in 1969, when Romulus operated under township government was set as follows:

Wayne County portion, $7.16; Township portion, $10.29; and Romulus Community School District at $31.88.

The school tax levy was lowered by the school board recently by 1.2 mills over the 1969 levy because of the amount of assessed valuation in the school district increased by $24 million within the past year.

The budget, according to City Treasurer Albert Glinski, reflects an increase in the city tax rate of 1.2 mills over the 1969 levy.

This will amount to $1.20 per $1,000 of property valuation assessed at 50 percent of its cash value in accordance with state tax assessing procedures.

Glinski also reported that the city operation must now include road maintenance previously performed under the Wayne County Road Commission crews.

He reported that the State Equalization Factor of 1.74 in 1969 was applied to each one third valuation for each parcel in Romulus. This brought the property valuation up to 50 percent of cash value.

The tax levy of $49.33 was applied to the 50 percent valuation thus arriving at an appropriate tax bill.

The factor to be applied in the 1970 tax collection will be 1.92. This, Glinski reported, will raise property valuation this year with an subsequent boost in property tax assessment.

Romulus' property valuation, state equalized, was reported at $133,769,580.

This year, Romulus will share in the distribution of Michigan Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, state sales tax refund and other state programs. These are included in expected revenues for the 1970-71 year.

Motion to approve and adopt Romulus first general fund operating budget was made by Councilman William M. Oakley. He was supported by Councilman Fred Junior Block.

Urban renewal contracts Approved

Proposed contracts for Real Estate Acquisition Appraisals in Romulus' initial Urban Renewal Project were approved by Romulus City Council at last Thursday's session.

The contract requests for the second and final real estate acquisition appraisal was submitted to the council by George Wilhelmi, Urban Renewal director for the city.

Contracts were awarded to Edward M. Stanley, and Henry W. Morrison, appraisers, both of Detroit.

Wilhelmi reported that both appraisers were "well qualified" and had performed the initial appraisals for the first phase of the city's Urban Renewal Program.

The first phase embraces 175 acres of the 575 acres in the Wayne-Beverly Rds., Re-development Program.

enforced by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) two independent appraisals are required in all Urban Renewal Projects.

The first two appraisals were made in 1968 by Stanley and Morrison. At that time the two independent appraisers each took a half of the real estate property scheduled for acquisition.

The contract approved last Thursday sets a maximum cost on each contract of not more than $10,000.

The appraisers will now switch properties appraised in 1968 and set second appraisals on each property involved in the program, Wilhelmi said.

There are 313 parcels of property owners in the first project's area to be appraised.

"The two appraisers have worked on the initial appraisals, and have done work for the township and city in the past. There are well qualified to do the work entailed in the contract," Wilhelmi said.

Teachers agree to new contract

A tentative agreement on a Master Contract for teacher employment for the 1970-71 school year has been reached, William Jakad, assistant school superintendent Romulus Community Schools, announced Monday.

The agreement, involving 250 teachers, was agreed upon by negotiating teams representing the Romulus Community Schools Board of Education and Romulus Education Association.

The pact is now subject to certification by the Board of Education. The next meeting of the school board is scheduled Aug. 24.

Negotiators reached their agreement at the first session before a mediator of Michigan's Office of Labor Relations Commission held Aug. 14 at the board of education offices.

Terms of the master contract were not released pending approval by the school board.

Negotiations on a new teacher contract began last April. The present contract expired on Aug. 14.

The agreement means that Romulus schools will be opened on Sept. 8, unless something unforeseen develops and at edition time this was improvable.

Members of the school board team are:

William Jakad, chief negotiator; alternating school principals, and legal counsel Robert Verduysee of the law firm of Butzel, Eaman, Long, Gust and Kennedy.

Registration set for 'Y' nursery

Registration for the YWCA sponsored pre-school nursery has been tentatively scheduled for Sept. 15 and 17, with nursery classes to begin on Sept. 22.

Plans are to hold nursery sessions from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday at the Special Services Building, 7335 Washington St.

Cost per morning will be fifty cents per child. Age limits are between two and one-half and six years. Membership in the YWCA is required of the mother.

A "Y" Wives group has been formed under the leadership of Mrs. Maureen Madish to provide activities and events for the mothers.

William P. Walsh of Detroit, was authorized to make a re-use appraisal on land to be developed after acquisition as to what valuation property would bring.

Under the present Urban Renewal Program, the city would be responsible for streets, storm sewers and replating of the area in the first project. Walsh's appraisal would present property valuations with this in mind.

HOMEBUYERS PICKETING BUILDING — Romulus purchasers of homes in a Romulus subdivision built by Kaufman & Broad Homes, Inc., took to picketing last Saturday to publicize their complaints involving home purchased in "The Meadows," on Eureka Rd., between Harrison and Inkster Rds. They claimed the builder has failed to correct certain complaints voiced by owners on some aspects of the home construction. Some contend that their requests are unanswered.

Recognition is not always the best way

To The Editor:

At the last Romulus City Council Meeting held Aug. 13, a motion was made to allow a newly formed "Citizens Group" to have access to the meeting room of City Hall. Since it apparently appears as an innocent request the majority of councilmen appeared to have no reaction against it. However, Mr. James Stewart requested, by motion, that the group in question be given official recognition by the council, and therefore by the city and its administration.

How could any administration give Carte Blanche approval and recognition to any newly formed group that has had but one meeting? How, and why, should this be even considered without the group having some history behind it? Are the stated intentions of this group, and its leaders, the true intentions that shall be its end product? Or are the stated intentions of the group a "Red Herring" for other political motives?

The mayor declared that this group will not have more than 25 people in attendance. How does he know this? If it is a true "Citizens Group" then it would be open to all people of Romulus and possibly having in attendance more than just 25 people.

In conjunction with the above motion, Councilman Ellis Pennington rallied against this recognition and against allowing this group, or any group, to have use of the city's property because if one group arises what will prohibit another similar group from arising, as he had put it. I took his statements to mean why should this administration, or any administration, give their approval of sanctity to any newly formed political entity without really knowing more about that entity?

This seems logical and fundamental to me. For this I commend Mr. Ellis Pennington, if my interpretation is as stated.

Giving of political recognition, or official recognition, to any group is in my opinion not the best route to take due to the fact that it then would set a precedent for any and all other political entities that will erupt and evolve through the efforts of a few people.

Our Readers Write Resident replies to ghetto comments

To The Editor:

This letter is in reply to Leo Maier about the future ghetto of Van Buren Township—Independence Square. We have a home in this subdivision. My husband earns approximately $15,000 a year and I do not consider myself and my family candidates of the ghetto. Most people out here are average working men trying to buy a home for their family like everyone else. These houses are cute and reasonable for a change.

Some people got in on the government act No. 235 and some are here on V.A. or F.H.A. like us.

Sure the subdivision isn't much to look at right now. We don't have our front or back yards graded and most of the houses aren't finished, but give us a couple of years and I think most people would be proud to live here. These people have pride in their new homes—especially your A.D.C. mother's, the few that are here.

I would like to have an A.D.C. mother next to me—right now they have the best looking homes in the subdivision and work the hardest to keep it that way.

I'm sorry Mr. Maier, but you'll have to look somewhere else for your future ghetto—maybe you better look in your own back yard.

Deputy wins praise for aid to injured

To The Editor:

A thank you to Wayne County Deputy Sheriff Peter Bukis.

Last Friday when my mother was away, my father, Roy Smith, 65, who is retired after 35 years at Ford's was making some storm damage repairs on their home fell from a ladder and was injured.

With no one at home and the immediate neighbors away, my father made his way across the fields to the home of Deputy Peter Bukis where he received first aid.

A transportation splint was made from a large magazine for his arm that was broken in two places and arrangements made to have dad taken to Annapolis Hospital.

I am writing this remembering other nice articles I have read about officer Bukis in the past in newspapers and magazines. Also after talking to his friends and neighbors.

Pete is the type of person, no matter what he is doing, will make time to help someone in need. From a small child with a broken toy to a senior citizen with a broken arm. Thank the Lord he has persons like Pete around.

P.S. Pete came over on his leave day completed the job dad had started at the time of his fall.

Summer Experiences Provided For Youngsters

By BEVERLY McANALLY

ROMULUS — Childhood is a time for storing memories, having experiences and learning.

Much of adult life is based upon or influenced by the remembrance of childhood teachings and activities.

Sometimes, for one reason or another, children are deprived of "normal" childhood recollections. Often the cause is multiple: lack of stability in the family, ill health, economic deprivation, cultural lag, any of which can mean a more or less impoverished living style.

This summer the Romulus Community Schools has acted as a delegate agency to coordinate a program of summer experiences for approximately 30 youngsters.

Dennis Rohrs, a vigorous young father of four, is the director of the eight-week program which is designed to provide some cultural stimulation, routine classroom experience and enrichment to the lives of the children and their parents.

A visit to the Head Start Center, located in the Special Services Center, Romulus, finds the old brick school and frame "annex" abuzz with activity.

Insurance

The Sentry Insurance Co. of 16250 Northland Dr., Southfield, was the lowest of four bidders that sought to provide Workmans Compensation Insurance Coverage for Van Buren Public Schools for the 1970-71 school year.

The School board accepted and approved the Sentry's bid at its last meeting.

experience is missing in the home, it is to be found here. Rohrs provides the male "father image", testing foreheads for fever, bringing messages and forms for inoculations, advising, consulting, being responsible, concerned and interested.

Mrs. Peg Ross and Diane Golka, Romulus teachers from Cory and Mt. Pleasant Elementary Schools, organize and execute the program under Rohrs direction and are like surrogate mothers, or perhaps "aunts".

They direct the activities of the teen-aged volunteers and Youth Corps workers, in cooperation with the Para-Professionals; providing for more family-like interaction. The children receive a great deal of individual attention from the young people, who might be the ages of older brothers and sisters.

But the natural family is not supplanted by the organization, it is included in the field trips and special activities. Weekly meetings are held at the center for parents where many topics have been explored. There have been sewing classes, movies, discussion groups, informational talks and opportunities for some social contacts.

The impetus is to re-enforce and amplify the existing family structure.

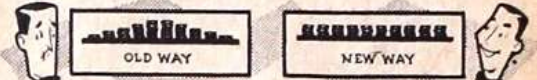

Because the children are sometimes lacking in nutrition, a light breakfast and heartier lunch is served. Play time is organized to help develop motor skills and coordination.

How successful is the program? According to Rohrs, it is difficult to measure the gains. To assess the program one might have to wait 10 or 12 years to see measurable achievement differences. But, if interest, enthusiasm, and dedication are criteria, it has to be a big success.

Dental care program nominated for award

The Hayti Elementary School's PTA Dental Care Program (Romulus) has been honored as one of two Michigan nominees selected to compete for the Lane Bryant Volunteer Award for Volunteer Achievement, announced Mrs. Betty Geisler, dental chairman.

The PTA group has been notified that they are being considered along with Mrs. Charlezetta Waddles (Mother Waddles' Perpetual Help Mission) and that both are eligible for two $5,000 awards to be presented in December.

Mrs. Geisler stated that her program has received a citation recognizing the superior achievement of the Hayti group in community service and volunteer effort.

According to Award officials, only 20 per cent of those nominated met the rigid preliminary screening and qualified for citations.

Finalists will be selected by a distinguished panel of judges whose roster has included such luminaries as Edward W. Brooke, Pearl S. Buck, William F. Buckley, Bennett Cerf, William O. Douglas, Berry Goldwater, Henry Cabot Lodge and

Romulus Democrats vote to merge clubs

The membership of the Romulus Democratic Club has voted to merge with the recently formed Democratic Club of the City of Romulus, Jack H. Trumble, president of the Romulus Democratic Club, announced Monday.

The merger vote was taken at a meeting of the club held last Thursday at the L & L Hall, 11114 Sterling St., Romulus.

A raffle was held at the meeting and members heard addresses by State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) of the 38th Whitney M. Young, to name only a few.

Making this year's selection will be Col. Frank Borman, Robert H. Finch, Robert Montgomery, Dr. Bennetta B. Washington and Legislative District, and State Representative Vincent J. Pettipren (D-Westland) of the 37th District.

The prizes offered at the raffle were a bottle of "cheer", sewing box donated by the Romulus Department Store and a cooler donated by the L&M Variety Store.

Mrs. Larry Plank won the cooler, Eugene Wilson won the bottle of cheer, and Mrs. Madara Bryant won the sewing box.

Pettipren thanked the club for the endorsement and assistance in the Aug. 4 primary election. Mahalak spoke on the elections. He said:

"We wish to thank everyone from both clubs. We feel being one club again will be of more help to the people

Volunteer chairman can hardly believe it

"We can hardly believe that we've been given this honor," exclaimed Mrs. Betty Geisler, volunteer chairman for Hayti Elementary School PTA's award winning Dental Care Program. "We have always been proud of our program, but didn't dream we stood a chance of coming this far in competition with so many others," she went on.

The Hayti Dental Care Program (Romulus) is now in its sixth year of continual operation, she explained. It was conceived, organized, financed and carried out through the efforts of the PTA group.

They worked in cooperation with the administrative and teaching staffs during the school year, to offer to all children ages six through 12 nominally priced dental care.

The PTA contracts with the Wayne County Health Department to purchase clinic time and the group pays the cost, except for one dollar per appointment which is paid by the family.

The clinic has been termed as "Community Self Help" in that parents assume all the responsibility for the operation or the program.

Acting under guidelines established by the PTA Executive Boards and the Health Department, under the leadership of a chairman, parents drive to and from the clinic, act as chaperones and raise funds to purchase clinic time.

Mrs. Geisler, who is now administering a Summer Program, Expressed her appreciation for the cooperation of the parents who have participated throughout the years, and especially to those in the summer clinic who have the additional responsibility of making appointments individually and through car pools.

Complaints bring fast council action

Citizens' complaints against conditions left by construction crews at a residential subdivision project in Romulus brought orders from Romulus City Council that improvements be made immediately or the complaints will be referred to the city's legal counsel for court action.

Robert Plank, spokesman for residents of the Brandt and Colbert Sts., area, charged that Republic Development Company (formerly Rose Hill Builders) crews are leaving the streets with dirt, gravel and other debris on Eureka Rd. Complaints to construction crews or men found on the job are to no avail.

They charged that it has become a "flagrant violation to the health and safety of residents."

Councilmen instructed the police department to have one of its men check the area daily and if violations continue then to refer the matter to John E. Young, city attorney.

A check with the area last Friday by Robert Plank, showed matters were taken care of.

But he still wanted the city to continue with their checking.

In our opinion

Political sign laws need further attention

We believe local communities should weigh their current ordinances on political signs for revision or possible writing of new laws to combat this well known political excess.

Particularly, we object to the constant habit of political candidates at various levels to tack signs and bumper stickers on stop signs, trees and telephone poles where the public can view the annoyance.

During the primary election campaign just completed the examples of such sign misuse were abundant. Along many major streets, every other tree and pole was decorated with a political sign.

There is no question that such practices constitute a blight on the community.

We know that police officers and ordinance workers in many communities must spend too much of the time they ought to spend on other community problems going around taking down signs and stickers put up by political workers.

The cost, of course, is to the taxpayers.

At the same time, city officials have no choice but to assign workers to these tasks, in order to keep some semblance of beauty in the community. It is obviously the kind of headache cities would very much like to be rid of.

We have asked on previous occasions that political workers police themselves on the use of political signs and stickers. That approach would appear to have proved itself useless to control the problem. Self-restraint by political workers was absent in many areas of the past primary campaign.

We therefore see no other approach open than to call for legislation by local communities to penalize the workers or candidates whose signs and stickers show up in places where they should not.

Westland recently debated a sign ordinance and run up against charges that the ordinance might restrain the freedom of speech of residents.

But a limited measure, calling for reasonable use of signs in places that are not part of the public domain, should be acceptable to all candidates and citizens. We believe agreement among citizens could be easily reached on such a law.

At any rate, something should be done now to explore ways to prevent a recurrence of the sign epidemic recently experienced. Even though many communities have been fighting the problem for years, it is not necessarily a dead end proposition.

Pollution law allows direct citizen action

By EDWARD MAHALAK
State Representative, 38th District

The Legislature returned on Aug. 6 after a one-month summer recess. There was a substantial amount of unfinished business on both the House and Senate calendars. During the summer recess, bills which had won legislative approval before the break were presented to the Governor. Most were enacted into law by his signature. There were a few vetoes.

One of the new public acts will give Michigan an important new weapon in its continuing fight against pollution. The new law is based on the concept that each and every citizen of the state should have the right to take action to preserve his environment.

The public act, which originated in the House, permits individuals and groups to bring legal action against those they believe to be polluting the waters, air and other natural resources of the state. Michigan is the first state to enact this new concept into law. It will not, of course, solve all of our pollution problems, but it will help to bring those problems into sharper focus.

There are two other environmental quality laws now on the books. One of them establishes a system of licensing persons who commercially use such pesticides as DDT. The registration of DDT was cancelled last year by the State Department of Agriculture. This new law completes the state program of control for this harmful chemical.

The other new law tightens restrictions on the dumping of sewage, oils and other wastes from freighters and other commercial vessels in state waters. There already are restrictions on private pleasure boats.

Also recently signed into law is a bill which completes a trio of important labor measures. Earlier there were enacted bills which increased the state's $1.25 an hour minimum wage to $1.45 an hour on last July 1 and to $1.60 an hour effective Jan. 1, 1970, and which provided for across-the-board increases in unemployment compensation benefits.

The latest public acts will make it possible to extend benefits for unemployed workers who have already exhausted their regular 26 weeks of compensation payments. This is done by taking advantage of a federal grant act which permits the state and federal governments to share equally in the cost of extended jobless benefits.

Under this agreement, the additional benefits become effective when either the national unemployment rate exceeds 4.5 per cent for three consecutive months or when the state's unemployment rate for a 13-week period is 20 per cent higher than the average for the same period of time in the two previous calendar years.

Election is key to area power

By DICK McKNIGHT

The outcome of the statewide races for Governor and United States Senator may have an important impact on western Wayne County and its hopes for increasing political power in Lansing.

The 1970 census has added voting power to local residents which will be realized when legislative districts are reapportioned within the next two years or so. Most of the state representative districts, state senate districts and U.S. Representative districts will be made smaller because of increasing western Wayne County population.

This will mean western Wayne County will be gaining more representation specifically for the area.

How the legislature reapportions these voting districts will have a great affect on the kind of people western Wayne residents will be electing as their representatives.

If, for instance, a Republican victory carries a majority of the GOP candidates into state house and senate seats, the GOP might apportion differently than the Democrats.

A GOP apportionment plan might attempt to tie all of the area Democratic voters into tight districts with few Republican voting areas included, hoping to create new Republican-oriented districts. Or, an attempt could be made to split the area up in order to separate Democratic voters into ineffective pockets.

A Democratic apportionment plan might try to keep Republican voting areas, like Plymouth, tied to normally Democratic voting areas so as to cancel the Republican vote.

At any rate, both parties will be concerned with creating the best apportionment plan for their own particular fortunes.

The conclusion is inescapable that Democratic strongholds like western Wayne County will benefit by a Democratic party victory. The area normally fares better when it sends its Democratic office holders to state legislative houses which are Democratically-controlled.

It is better, it seems, to be part of the majority.

There is considerable doubt that area voters will automatically vote straight Democratic tickets simply because of this issue. Voters have shown in the past that they can be favorably disposed to Republican candidates on a state level, even as local Democrats are being elected.

It happened in 1966 with George Romney and Robert Griffin. Democrats are hoping they can avoid the result this year.

Reader is satisfied with Van Buren vote

To The Editor:

Last week's elections in Van Buren Township rekindled my enthusiasm for America and the American ideal. Rod Bly's win in the primary demonstrated that, under our system of government, corruption cannot and will not exist no matter what the size of the "machine" opposing uprightness and honesty.

At last the Township has a man of unimpeachable integrity not seeking election in order to make an extra buck at our expense but seeking election to rid the township government of hypocrisy, outside criticism, and blatant and obvious corruption.

As has been shown many times in our nation's history, men who would use power to corrupt eventually corrupt their own power. Such, unfortunately, has been the case with leaders in recent years, of our township's government. With Rod Bly in office, however, we can all feel secure that our local government will again listen to the voice of the people.

Rod Bly's victory earns voters praise

TO THE EDITOR:

As a concerned citizen of Van Buren Township, I would like to express my deep gratitude to the voters in the Aug. 4 Democratic Primary for the election of Rod Bly. Van Buren Township has long needed a representative of the real wishes of the people, and Rod Bly most certainly fulfills the needs of the people.

I am confident that we can all look forward to a new era of stable and responsible government for this township. Let us all vow to cooperate with our newly chosen leadership as they strive to bring the best possible government to the area.

Wayne reader takes a different look

To the Editor:

The letter to your newspaper from the "Concerned Garden City Residents" describing J.D. Salinger's justly famous novel The Catcher in the Rye as "filth" indicates that the "Concerned Garden City Residents'" deficiency in literary taste is exceeded only by their lack of literary training.

Anything filthy in The Catcher in the Rye must be conjured up in the mind of the reader, for there is most certainly no filth in the book.

There are some four-letter words in The Catcher in the Rye, and there are some innocuous references to sex, but if all books with references to sex or with four-letter words were classified as "filth" and banned from our schools, I'm afraid there would be little literature left to teach, for using this criteria most of the works of Chaucer, Shakespeare, Swift, Fielding, Stephen Crane, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway, William Faulkner, John Steinbeck, Eugene O'Neill, and many other great artists, would have to be banned.

The courageous school official who said he would not be pressured by the hysterical demands of the "Concerned Garden City Residents" should be applauded. There is no valid reason why a school system should have to concern itself with the ratings of self-styled guardians of the public morality, who would have all our children read only what fits their narrow and bigoted conception of morality.

Sincerely,
H.D. Waldschmidt

Speaking of schools

Expansion may be needed

By DALE KAULITZ Superintendent of Van Buren Schools

Just prior to the beginning of another school year it is appropriate to review our objectives, our strengths and weaknesses, and attempt to focus in on our problems more clearly so that our ability to solve them will sharpen.

Our major objective, of course, is to provide the finest educational opportunities for our children and youth that it is possible to provide within the bounds of a finite resources. We all know that the curricula, extra-curricular programs in any school system can be improved. Some of the improvements can be made without additional financial resources, but many cannot.

Current thinking of our board of education regarding taxes for school purposes is to hold the line if possible — to provide whatever improvements and enrichments we can within existing tax rates.

As you undoubtedly know, North Junior High School will open in September and will provide as many as ten classrooms for elementary school youngsters. This is necessary because classrooms filled throughout the district's eight existing elementary buildings.

The board of education is planning to seek approval for a bond issue to secure funds to construct additional school facilities. Within a short period of time, the new North Junior High School will need all of its classrooms for junior high youngsters. It is obvious that an additional elementary school building will be needed soon. Another highly desirable facility improvement currently being considered is enlargement of the high school library — sometimes called the learning resources center.

Date for an election has not been set, nor has the amount of the bond issue the board will seek been decided. These details will be worked out in the near future. Again, the board will do all in its power to avoid any and all tax increases if at all possible.

Dedication programs are being planned for the new Belleville High School auditorium and for the new North Junior High School. Sunday, Sept. 20 is the date set for the auditorium dedication and open house. North Junior High School will be dedicated on Sunday, Oct. 11. The dedicatory programs for both buildings will begin at 2 p.m.

During the next few weeks, the board of education will be receiving preliminary and final reports from the Citizens Study Committee and its seven subcommittees. The board is anxious to study the reports and to consider the recommendations in the areas of elementary, junior high, and senior high curriculum, buildings and facilities, public relations, finance, and transportation. It is anticipated that these reports and recommendations will reflect the overall thinking of the residents of our entire school district.

These study committee reports and recommendations will help to clarify desired aims and objectives and will help to identify strengths, weaknesses, and problems.

Our newly acquired facility for vocational education, the W. E. Hennels factory building at 414 Sumpter Rd. is a much needed facility and a most welcomed addition.

We are proceeding into the new school year confident that it will be an excellent one.

Lansing highlights

New wave of candor on tap for campaign

LANSING — Political scientists working over fuming vials of exotic chemicals in partisan garrets have devised a new weapon.

It's candor.

Sources close to the laboratories say it confirms the Weber Thesis of the 1950s: "Honesty is frequently the best policy."

It was developed privately by that old master of the political muse, Paul W. Weber, former press secretary to former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, but it perished from lack of exercise.

Now Gov. Milliken has prescribed pushups and a weekly sauna and it's regaining its color. Here's what Milliken said at Ionia as he kicked off the formal part of his campaign:

"We must stop making promises that can't be kept, for promises that can't be kept only increase the sense of cynicism and despair that grips this land today."

"I hope that in the campaign ahead, candidates of both parties will not be afraid to pass the buck on to the people in those matters where only the people, acting as individuals, have the power to change the conditions that plague us."

That whirring sound is caused by the political bosses of old orbiting capitol domes in the hereafter.

Candor, an enchanting new device ready for testing on the Yucca salt flats and polishing on the street corners of Michigan during the 1970 campaign.

State Senator Sander M. Levin, Milliken's Democratic rival for governor, has been told of the new weapon as he takes his ease at a lake near Brighton and a White Paper is being prepared.

Levin's record tends to agree with the approach. His White Papers on every issue are becoming legends, strong positions that brook no deviation or hedging.

Weber, the only political press agent about whom a book has been written, was years ahead of his time.

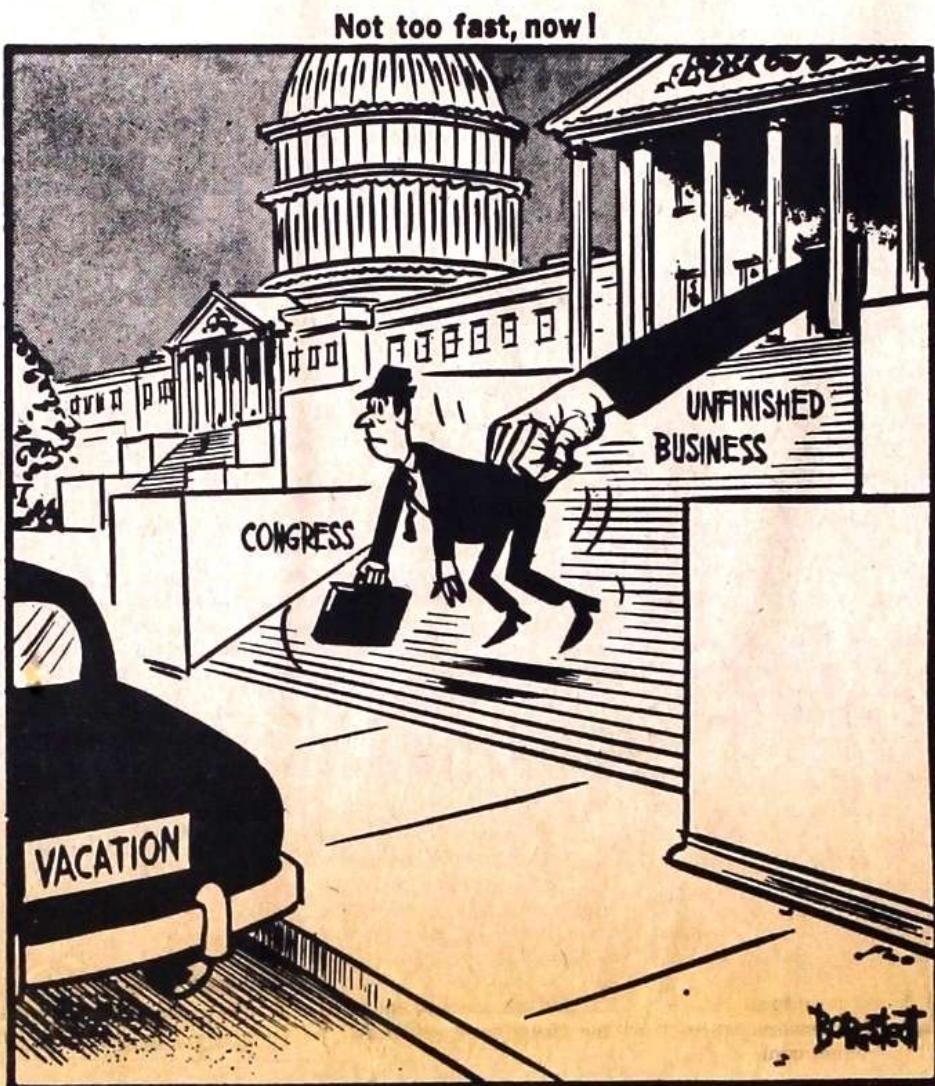

Candor, if acceptable to the delegates assembled in state conventions later this month, will revolutionize party platforms.

For generations Republicans have written planks agreeable to the proletariat, then dashing off to campaign rallies poolside at the country club.

Democrats have traditionally written glowingly of business and industry in their platforms in convention, then drafted soak-the-corporations tax bills in the legislature.

The credibility gap between platforms and followup in the legislature has been a delight for politician-watchers since the late Frank D. McKay, of Grand Rapids, used to write them for Republicans on the back of a statement from his haberdashery.

In Michigan politics, candor in its impact is expected to outstrip the first splitting of the atom at the Manhattan Project.

Ford takes big role in overriding veto

Congressman William D. Ford (D of Michigan's 15th District) played a major role Thursday in the successful fight in the House of Representatives to override President Nixon's veto of the 1970-71 Education Appropriation Bill.

Congressman Ford is chairman of the Education Task Force of the Democratic Study Group, and is a ranking member of the House of Representatives' Committee on Education and Labor.

The House voted to override the veto by a vote of 289 to 114 — a margin of 20 more than the required two-thirds majority.

In a second vote, the House failed to override President Nixon's veto of another appropriations bill which provided funds for the Veterans Administration, Department of Housing and Urban Development, the space agency and other independent Federal offices. The vote was 233 to 195 — a margin of 62 votes short of the required majority.

Ford made an unusually sharp attack on President Nixon in a speech urging his colleagues to override both vetoes.

Declaring that the vetoes were politically motivated, Ford charged that the President "simultaneously slammed the school doors in children's faces while kicking the crutches out from under our veterans."

Commenting on the President's statement that the two appropriations bills were inflationary because they called for more money than requested by the Administration, Congressman Ford said:

"I certainly share the President's concern over inflation, and have been working to help bring it under control. However, I resent the administration's attempt to try to escape responsibility for its own inflationary policy by tagging the 91st Congress as the sole cause of inflation because we voted for a $453 million increase for education and a $541 million increase for housing, anti-pollution, water and sewer grants, and critically needed medical care for veterans."

Ford pointed out that the House of Representatives has actually cut the President's budget requests by more than $2 billion, and added that he voted for budget cuts totaling $7.7 billion, in such areas as farm subsidies, foreign aid and military spending.

In light of that fact," he declared, "my votes for $453 million for education and $541 million for housing, water and sewer facilities, and better care for disabled soldiers can hardly be called inflationary."

Ford cited the example of one city in his district — Lincoln Park — to show the desperate situation of many school districts.

After voters four times rejected proposed millage increases to meet rising costs, the school board was forced to eliminate all high school athletics, art, music and band programs; close cafeterias, and drop adult education, summer school, many special education classes and transportation for handicapped children. The board has eliminated 130 teaching positions, and will put all elementary students on half-day sessions next month.

"The children of Lincoln Park are already receiving less than a first-rate education, and the situation will obviously worsen in the coming year, as the austerity program continues," Ford said.

"The only salvation for Lincoln Park is a massive infusion of Federal aid. Are we, instead, going to tell them that they must make further cutbacks in the name of fighting inflation?"

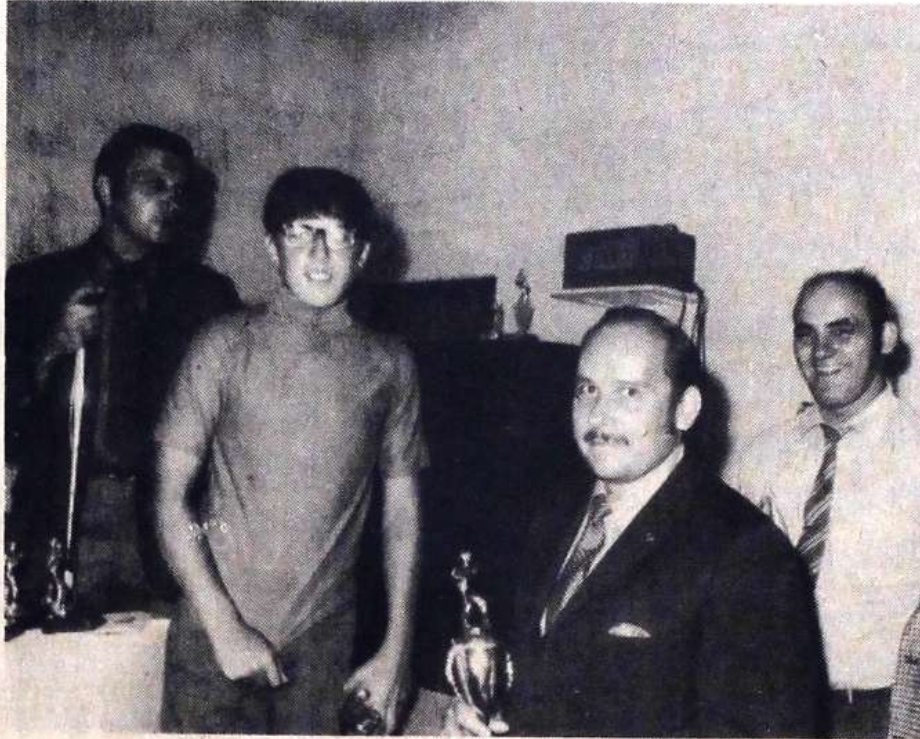

Congressman Ford also noted that the administration is seeking $1-1/2 billion for school desegregation during the next two years.

"If the President thinks that $435 million just to keep our present educational system going is inflationary, then I am unable to understand how $1-1/2 billion for his own school programs is not inflationary."

"I do not mean to say that it is wrong to spend money to fulfill the requirements of the law in achieving desegregation. What I do mean to say is that the President is not being consistent."

Commenting after the votes, Ford criticized President Nixon's timing in the two vetoes.

A bid of $11,279 for copper and fittings submitted by the Michigan Hydrant & Valve Co., was approved by Romulus City Council.

The bid was recommended by the Department of Public Works.

Anti pollution laws are nation's strongest

Michigan's anti-pollution laws are among the strongest in the nation. Michigan's Water Resources Management Act makes it unlawful for any person to discharge, directly or indirectly, into the waters of the State any substance which either is or may become harmful to the land, wildlife, public health, or industrial or commercial uses of the land, Frank J. Kelley, Michigan Attorney General, warned.

The act is enforced by Water Resources Commission inspectors and by the Attorney General. Any duly appointed agent of the commission has the right to enter at all reasonable times upon public or private property for the purpose of inspection relating to water pollution.

After the commission gives notice of violation, any person who fails to comply with its order is subject to a criminal complaint and a penalty of $500 a day for every day during which the violation occurred.

The Michigan Air Pollution Act makes the State Air Pollution Control Commission responsible for establishing standards and rules governing discharge of air contaminants.

The commission has established regulations which provide, in part, that anyone planning to construct a facility which may cause air pollution must submit his plans to the commission for approval. Any gaseous or particle emissions which flow, untreated, into the atmosphere, must meet the standards established by the commission.

Every citizen can contribute to a cleaner environment by checking his own facilities for possible pollution and by reporting violations to the Water Resources Commission or the Air Pollution Control Commission, Lansing.

Flora Diepenhorst weds Grosse Pointer

In a late summer wedding performed Saturday, August 8, Flora Lynne Diepenhorst of Romulus became the bride of Steven Enzer of Grosse Pointe. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Roland L. Schaedig at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Grosse Pointe.

The bride is the daughter of Gerald Diepenhorst of 36836 Northline Road, Romulus, and the late Marion Diepenhorst. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Enzer of 922 Washington, Grosse Pointe, and the late Anthony Enzer.

Two bouquets of white flowers adorned the altar along with lighted candles. Organist for the occasion was Mrs. Pearl Varner, cousin of the bride, who also accompanied the vocalist, Russ Rhoton of Detroit, who sang "Sunrise, Sunset" and "Sabbath Prayer."

The bride wore a gown of peau de soie and rose patterned lace with a chapel train. A squared scalloped neckline and long lace sleeves were features of the fitted bodice. An insert of lace also extended down the front of the full, toe-touching skirt.

Garden Club plans

The Huron Valley Garden Club meeting was held August 10 at the home of Mrs. D. W. Blend, of Juniper Drive.

During the business meeting, plans were made concerning the club's project to beautify the banks of Belleville Lake. A ground-cover plant which is hardy as well as beautiful was decided upon by the project committee. They set up the planting schedule in which all members will engage.

The horticulture chairman, Mrs. John Gras, gave an interesting report and described a self-watering device for vacationing gardeners. She also reminded the members that August is the time for planting oriental poppies and peonies.

Plans were announced for a work session at the park for Aug. 14 at 8 A.M. Everyone is to bring work gloves and their brush-cleaning equipment.

The programs for the new club year were distributed. The program promises a very busy and interesting year.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Olin H. Wyman presented the program for the day. She gave an interesting demonstration of the basic starting points for glower arrangements.

BPW goes Hawaiian at luau

The August meeting of the BPW, in the atmosphere of an Hawaiian luau, was held Monday evening, August 10, at the Denton Road home of Alice Atwell, Leis, which had been made by the hostess, added to the attire of all those present. Several of the group wore colorful muu-muu dresses, eight members having purchased theirs while attending the National EPW Convention in Hawaii July 18-25.

Those attending from the Belleville Club were Mildred Artley, Bea Boldt, Marie Clayton, Ruth Davis, Vira Petraska, Arda Riggs, Margaret Saunders, and Helen White.

After a short business meeting, Margaret Saunders, delegate to the National Convention, gave a report of the convention in its entirety. The remainder of the group attending the convention related some of their experiences and showed many interesting pictures.

Quests for the evening included Susan Wisniewski, Mary McLaughlin, Cora Bradshaw, and Mae Fielder.

Her tiered, elbow length veil flowed from a crown of pearls and crystals and she carried a colonial bouquet of miniature white roses and stephanotis with knotted white ribbon streamers. Her father gave her in marriage.

FLORA CHOSE HER SISTER, Susan Marie Diepenhorst, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marianna Fisher of Coldwater, College roommate of the bride, and Carla Hay of Romulus, a cousin.

The attendants were dressed alike in aqua blue gowns of lace in floor length. Large nylon bows with streamers adorned the bodices and their sleeves were fitted and ended at the elbows with large ruffles. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and the honor maid a similar one of pink carnations and pink rosebuds.

On the esquire side, William R. Diepenhorst of Romulus, brother of the bride, assisted as best man, and Michael Williams of Detroit, cousin of the bridegroom, and Gerald A. Diepenhorst of Romulus, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Following their nuptial vows the newlyweds received their guests in the church parlors before proceeding to the home of the bride groom's mother for an afternoon reception. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Enzer wore a silk suit of aqua and had a corsage of miniature pink roses. Corsages were also pinned on the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Flora Morris, and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Leonard, both of Romulus.

ABOUT 75 RELATIVES and close friends were guests at the home and garden reception where buffet lunch was served.

The Enzers are now on a two weeks honeymoon to the East Coast and Florida. They planned to visit the groom's maternal grandparents near Columbus, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Edmund of Harbor Hills.

Upon their return they will be at home to their friends at Pinegrove Apartments on the campus of Eastern Michigan University.

The bride, a 1969 graduate of Romulus High School, will resume her second year at E.M.U. this fall, majoring in education. The bridegroom, a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, expects to earn his degree in electrical engineering at the University of Michigan come January.

Among out-of-state wedding guests were the bride's elder sister, Mrs. Mary Lou Fox, and small son, William, from South Bend, Indiana.

A rehearsal supper was held at the home of the bridegroom's mother on Thursday evening, August 6.

MRS. WILLIAM D. KELLY

Florida is honeymoon site

Bonnie Sell is the new Mrs. William Kelly

St. John's Lutheran Church, Waltz, was reserved August 8 for the double ring wedding of Bonnie Sell and William D. Kelly.

Vases of white gladiolas and mums, potted palms and candelabra formed the setting for the seven o'clock nuptials read by Rev. H. John Schable before some 450 assembled guests.

Mrs. Fay Waltz was organist and the bride's cousin, Claudia Sell, was soloist.

The summer rite united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sell of 50875 Willis Road, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Kelly of 6540 Whittaker Road, Ypsilanti.

ESCORTED TO THE ALTAR by her father, Bonnie appeared in a white silk organza creation with individual daisy appliques sprinkled over the gown. Wide bands of Venetian lattice-work formed the high neckline, empire waistline and cuffs on the bishop sleeves. The lace motif was repeated on the hemline and again on the chapel train which was drawn up into a bustle for the reception.

A cluster of daisies clasped her silk illusion veil which cascaded in a pouf to mid-back length. Completing her bridal finery was a spray of white Amazon lilies and ivy.

Pink chiffon over taffeta was worn by the quartet of bridal attendants. White daisy braid frosted the bodice with veiled bows forming their headpieces. All four carried nosegays of blue corn flowers.

Barbara Neumann of Ypsilanti, a close friend of the bride, was asked to be maid of honor. Janet Kelly, the bridegroom's sister; Elaine Sell of New Boston, the bride's cousin; and Carol Sell, her sister, were bridesmaids.

THREE-YEAR OLD LINDA SELL, daughter of the James Sells of Belleville, was the petite flowergirl dressed in a miniature of the senior attendants' frocks. Her little basket was filled with corn flowers.

Mark Long, four, son of the Johnny Longs of Saline, carried out the role of ringbearer at his aunt's wedding.

Michael Kelly of Ypsilanti was his brother's best man. Others on the esquire side were Kenneth Jones of Ypsilanti; Tom Armstrong of Milford, cousin of the bridegroom; and Dean Sell, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Sell chose for her daughter's wedding a powder blue sheath and the bridegroom's mother donned a pale purple lace-trimmed dress ensemble. Both were presented with white orchids.

Some 500 friends and relatives greeted the newlyweds at the reception which followed at the Romulus Progressive Club. They later departed for a two week honeymoon in Florida and on their return will reside at 50877 Willis Road, Belleville.

Both Bonnie and Bill are graduates of Lincoln High School. An employee of the A. & P. Store, Ypsilanti, Bonnie will be in her junior year at Eastern Michigan University in the fall.

The bridegroom earned his B.A. degree in chemistry at E.M.U. in June and is currently employed at Cimex Molybdenum Company's research laboratory.

Prior to the wedding, the Wilber Kellys hosted a rehearsal dinner at Huron Motor Inn, Ypsilanti.

Father Wierciock presided at the three o'clock nuptials before an altar graced with aqua daisy mums and white carnations and gladiolas.

Walking to the sanctuary with her father, the bride appeared in a formal gown of white organza edged with a chapel train. The empire bodice was styled with a high neckline and full sleeves cuffed at the wrist. Rows of daisy appliques were used to accent the frock and train.

MRS. LOUS L. MANDELKA

Anniversary jaunt

THE JAHNERS — Frank and Margaret — are back at their Quirk Road home after an absence of six weeks. Leaving Belleville, they motored to Colorado Springs, spent a day and left their car with her brother and sister-in-law, the Leo Schwarzenbergers, and flew to Torrence, California.

On the West Coast, they attended the July 11 wedding of their son, Frank, Jr., and Barbara Casanova, in the oceanside garden of the bride's parents home.

Then on the 13th, it was on to the Hawaiian Islands for a vacation marking their 31st wedding anniversary. On being met by their son and daughter-in-law, Richard and Rochelle Jahner, who reside in Hawaii Kai on Oahu, they got their first look at their grandson, two-year old Keith.

With practically all their time spent on Oahu, they enjoyed a cruise to Pearl Harbor, toured a pineapple cannery, feasted at a luau at the Hawaiian Hilton, shopped at the International Market Place, and learned about the Islands at the Polynesian Culture Center.

One day was spent on the garden island of Hawaii-Kauai—where they cruised up the river to the Fern Grotto, and toured the many points of interest there. They also spent an evening with former Bellevillites, the Frank Olsons, at their home in Kaula.

After saying their farewells and returning to the Mainland via 747 jetliner (with 330 passengers and 13 stewardesses aboard) they returned to Colorado to spend a week with the Schwarzenbergers. Sight-seeing there included the Royal Gorge, Seven Falls, and a tour of the Air Force Academy.

On the trip back to Michigan they visited with relatives along the way.

Double ring vows unite Griffith-Folks

Double ring vows were exchanged July 25 by Doris Jean Folks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brennis Folks of 45761 Harris Road, Belleville, and Donald Edward Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Griffith of 48951 Willis Road, Belleville.

Prayer Baptist Church in Wayne was the setting for the seven thirty ceremony presided over by Pastor Jack Story.

White gladiolas and mums combined with lighted tapers to form the setting as Doris approached the altar with her father.

Mrs. James Southward of Belleville was at the organ to accompany her husband as he sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Wedding Prayer."

THE BRIDE held a dozen red sweetheart roses with 32 carnations forming a cascading bouquet. Her gown was fashioned of organza over peau de soie, the empire silhouette featuring a high neckline and long sleeves. Her mantilla veil, bordered with lace, swept into a chapel train as she walked.

Debbie Bates of Garden City was the only attendant wearing a lavender frock with puffed quarter-length sleeves and a high-rise waistline. White Spanish lace threaded with lavender ribbon accented the bodice and a bow attached at the back secured a paneled train.

A lavender bow dotted with sequins held a brief veil to form her headgear and she carried a colonial bouquet of lavender carnations.

Tom Sykes of Whittaker served as best man with the bride's twin brothers, Dale and Gale, ushering.

THE MASONIC TEMPLE, Belleville, was reserved for the reception which followed. Some 150 guests were greeted by Mrs. Folks in a mint green jakarta ensemble with bone accessories. For her son's wedding Mrs. Griffith donned a light beige, dacron crepe frock and matching accessories. Both mothers were presented with corsages of carnations and roses.

Following a week's honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Canada, the newly weds took up residence at 509 Liberty Street, Belleville.

The new Mrs. Griffith graduated from Belleville High School and Carnegie Institute of Detroit. Prior to her wedding she was employed at Beyer Hospital. The bridegroom, a Lincoln High graduate, is employed at Fisher Body, Willow Run.

RETRACTION

In a political leaflet distributed during the past Primary Election Campaign, the following statements were made:
WHY - After the ATTORNEY GENERAL OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN removed Mr. Toth from office, did the Board of Trustees allow him to appoint his SUCCESSOR?
WHY - Did that successor, MR. STOELTON, appoint MR. TOTTH, MR. AKRON, and MR. SCHLUND to a newly created Sewer and Water Commission?
These statements have been found to be inaccurate and are hereby retracted.
In regard to the first statement we find that Mr. Toth was not removed from office by the Attorney General of the State of Michigan. Reliable sources have cited that Mr. Toth was advised by the Attorney General's office to remove himself from office. In the committee's opinion the only question was why did the Board of Trustees of Van Buren Township allow Mr. Toth to appoint his successor?
Concerning the second statement regarding Mr. Schlund's appointment to the Sewer and Water Commission, we find that Mr. Schlund was not actually appointed to that commission. In the committee's opinion the fact that Mr. Schlund was, at that time, on the Board of Directors of certain companies with Mr. Toth and Mr. Akron, he was then in affect involved with the business of the Sewer and Water Commission.

A penny saved is just a penny earned, if you're saving it in a wallet, drawer, purse or cookie jar. That same penny, placed in a WSB savings account, earns interest. Leave it in awhile and it becomes more than a penny. Of course, a penny alone won't make your family financially secure. It takes a regular program of planned savings to do that. We just used the penny example to make an important point. You get more out of a WSB savings account than you put in.

Veterans need cards for funds

Veterans who attended classes during the spring and summer session under the G.I. Bill should make certain that their Certification of Attendance cards are returned to the Veterans Administration immediately.

Robert M. FitzGerald, director of the VA Regional Office, Detroit, explained that unless the cards are returned, veterans cannot be paid the educational money for their last month of training. Neither can they be paid for their first month of training when they return to school this fall.

A veteran attending college should fill out and sign the card he received with his next to final check, and mail it to his VA Regional Office, FitzGerald explained.

A veteran training below college level should fill out and sign the card he receives with his monthly check, and return it each month to his VA Regional Office. In addition, the card must be signed by a school official.

The veteran who has lost his attendance certification card should request another from his nearest VA Office. He should then return the completed card to the VA Office, FitzGerald advised.

FitzGerald urged veterans intending to go to school this fall who do not have a VA certificate of eligibility to contact the VA Regional Office, 801 W. Baltimore at Third, P.O. Box 11117-A, Detroit 48232.

Water deaths may reach high

Michigan is headed for a record number of water deaths in 1970.

The bitter assessment, recently reviewed by Col. Frederick E. Davids, State Police director, comes in the wake of a long, hot summer that has already claimed more drowning victims than last year at the same time.

"Provisional figures," Col. Davids said, "indicate we will have more water deaths this year than the all time high of 347 recorded in 1969."

Davids said many factors enter into the tragic pattern including prolonged hot weather, more unsupervised swimming and the use of dangerous areas such as gravel pits for swimming parties.

Davids pointed out that while local enforcement agencies have been empowered to police boating rules and regulations, little is being done to improve non-boating water safety programs.

"When you consider that two-thirds of all drownings do not involve boats, the need for more water safety education and control is obvious," Davids said.

Avoid gravel pits and other restricted areas when swimming and do not be complacent about the back-yard pool. Home pools claimed 23 victims in 1969.

END OF THE ROAD — With Anchor Block clinching its second straight Romulus Adult Softball Championship last week the 10-team league turned its thoughts to post-season tournaments. The champs will head for Ecorse to take part in the annual Downriver Softball Tournament while their local rivals will mix it up in a playoff series. Above, a Baum baserunner is called out at first in the showdown game with Anchor Block. Block took the game and title 4-3 from the previous league leaders as they sewed up the season with a 17-3 record.

R YBA crowns champs

It's all over in the Romulus Youth Baseball Association League. And the Morgan's have it — the championships, that is. In three of the five divisions, Morgan's teams emerged on top.

Morgan's Pirates proved overwhelming in the Class A League as they posted an easy triumph over the field of six rivals to take the title. Morgan's had a 11-1 season record, beating second place 5 Point Car Wash's ratio, 8-4.

Over in the American League, Morgan's Mets were the ones to beat. The Mets nipped The Wash Tub to emerge with the championship in their respective division. The champs posted a 9-2 record for the crown. Wash Tub came out 8-3 which was good enough for a two-way tie for second with C & B Party Store.

The third Morgan team with a title was Morgan's Cubs which competed in the National League. They finished the season with a 14-2 record and the championship.

In second place in the division was L.M. Variety Store which compiled a 12-4 record.

In Class B competition, the Satterlee Contractors lost but one game and earned 10 victories which gave them the National League championship. Romulus Homeowners were forced to settle for second place honors when they finished with an 8-3 record.

Kerr Manufacturing had the best team in the American League's Class C. They beat out Spearman's Little Skipper (12-3) for the championship.

The Romulus Youth Baseball Association also plans an All-Star game between its Pony team and Garden City on Saturday. The game will be played at Romulus Senior High School. Garden City's representative in the Pony League reached the national finals before being outstayed on Sunday.

Where have all the golfers gone?

Where have all the area golfers gone? With the annual city golf tournament only one week off, only 20 entries have been received from amateurs from the four participating cities. The tournament will be conducted on Aug. 22-23 at the Fellows Creek Golf Course, 2936 Lotz Rd., Canton Township.

"Maybe they are waiting that final day, as they have in the past, to enter," said Moordian.

We're a daily operation

By TOM MOORADIAN

They finally caught up with me!

For years now — more than I want to remember — I have been taking money under false pretenses, working one day and getting a week's salary.

Suddenly, the Establishment has informed us that we will be working everyday for our livelihood. And that could depress even the stoutest soul.

But, as Donald G. Peattie once wrote in his 'An Almanac for Moderns,' "Life is adventure in experience, and when you are no longer greedy for the last drop of it, it means no more than that you have set your face... to the day when you shall depart..."

And, man, I'm not about to depart!

Anyway, I'll be pounding out this beat every day from 5 a.m., (that's right, 5 a.m.) until noon when Mike Hendricks, who recently joined the Eagle sports staff, will take over the second shift. With this move we will be able to have someone to gather information and answer questions from 5 in the morning until 8 p.m.

I don't however have to tell you folks what this will mean to the Sports Meridian's night life.

Guess I'm also going to have to cough up a dinner for Bob Eisingmer and coach Jack Malaney. Earlier in the year I couldn't see their Wayne Post 111 winning the American Legion's 16th District's title.

Eisingmer and Malaney could and did win Wayne's first Legion championship.

Just isn't my year, I guess.

Reminiscing

Winners? There was one guy I always considered a winner and that was Doc Greene, the former Detroit News Columnist who succumbed last week to a heart attack.

Our paths had crossed several times over the years but one memorable occasion was at the 1965 Michigan Mile.

Chewing up time before the feature race, Doc asked me what I liked and I replied that I was going with the favorite, Roman Brother.

He winked and said: "There is only one mare in the lot and that's Old Hat. You better get on her, she is going to run away with it."

Old Hat did. That long-shot galloped away to an easy victory and a fat payoff.

There was a sparkle in Doc's eyes as we strolled to the elevator and down to the main floor. No, Doc didn't say, "I told you, so" or rub it in. That wasn't Doc.

But there was a smile in his eyes. There was always one that radiated a sort of excitement. And that sparkle will never be extinguished as long as people enjoy good journalism.

Study in Black and White

Over the past weeks there have been more than a score of teams that have been crowned champions of their respective leagues.

But the Inkster Boys' Club is more than proud of the accomplishment of their Connie Mack League team that won the title. Charles E. Penn, club coordinator explains:

"True this is the first time in the history of the Connie Mack League that the championship has been won by an Inkster team. We are proud of that fact," said Penn. "But, more important, we are proud of these boys who have shattered the myth that black and white youngsters can't work and play together."

"The Cobras are an integrated team and on or off the field these boys exemplify the best qualities in man. I know we adults have a lot to learn from these boys."

It also goes to show that team manager Al Rice and Coaches Edsel Whitehead, Al Gurin and Clifford DeBaptist, have instilled in these youngsters the finest in sportsmanship.

A plaque, with the name's of each player, has been presented to the King-Kennedy Boys Club commemorating the outstanding achievement of the 1970 Cobra team.

True, we do have a lot to learn from these youngsters.

"In previous years we have had up to 100 golfers competing in this annual event," said Tom Mooradian, tourney director. "But for some strange reason the golfers have shied away."

The tournament, which decides the separate city championships for the cities of Garden City, Westland, Inkster and Wayne, is opened to all amateur golfers of all four cities.

TB society seeks Christmas design

Wayne County artists are invited to enter a nationwide competition for the design of the 1972 Christmas Seal.

The Tuberculosis and Health Society announced a $1,000 cash award for the artist whose design is chosen to spearhead the annual drive against respiratory diseases.

The Society works two years in advance of production and the design selected will be seen on Christmas Seals, billboards, posters and television during the 1972 holiday season.

Although such well-known artists as Stevan Dohanos and Heidi Brandt have contributed seals during past years, it has also been won by amateurs, artists just beginning their careers and students.

Contest rules and information, and copies of past Seal designs are available from the TB and Health Society, 153 East Elizabeth, Detroit, or call 961-1697. Deadline for entry is Oct. 1, 1970.

'The Rothschilds' needs more than dialogue

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

Lester Osterman Productions present the Hillard Elkins Production of "The Rothschilds," a prior-to-Broadway musical in two acts, music by Jerry Bock, lyrics by Sheldon Harnick, book by Sherman Yellen from the book by Frederick Morton, directed by Derek Goldby, choreography by Michael Kidd, sets and costumes by John Bury, lighting by Richard Pilbrow, orchestrations by Don Walker, conducted and vocal arrangements by Milton Greene. At the Fische Theatre through Sept. 12 with the following cast: Paul Hecht, Hal Linden, Leila Martin, Keene Curtis, Jill Clayburgh, Leo Leyden, David Garfield, Timothy Jerome, Chris Sarandon and Allen Gruet.

Since the history of the Rothschild family, the Jewish family which rose from the ghetto to become the bankers of Europe, would seem to have all the warmth of a stock market report, author Sherman Yellen has some grave problems in attempting to bring Frederick Morton's biography to the stage.

Conceding that it would be impossible to manage the entire volume, he confines himself merely to two generations, comprising the period 1772-1818. What emerges is a cavalcade of struggles, of deals, of plots — but not of people.

Halfway through the first act, Hal Linden as the patriarch Rothschild, Meyer, stops and glows in a delightfully robust number, "Sons" — and, save for a brief and almost out of place interruption in the second act in which one of Meyer's sons woos a wife, that's it as far as people are concerned — the rest is cavalcade.

This is not to say that Rothschild's struggle from the ghetto where he is spat upon and despite lacks interest. His ingenuity in becoming an agent between the Frankfurt bankers and Prince William of Hesse and the subsequent adventures of his sons to capitalize upon the Napoleonic wars are meaty — perhaps too meaty, for the juice is gone.

The Bock-Harnick score is only serviceable, advancing the story without really enhancing it and Michael Kidd, the choreographer, has little to do since there isn't much market for dancing cash registers.

It's easy to see where most of the money went in "The Rothschilds." John Bury's sets are massive and handsome, serving both as the background for the Rothschild store and the framework for the surrounding mood pieces in which the congress of the Grand Alliance, introduce the periods with auctions strongly flavored with the mood of "Oh What a Lovely War."

This is Yellen's first Broadway effort; up to now he has written mostly for television. The future evolution of "The Rothschilds" is problematical, although the stage thoroughly with his noble performance as the patriarch Meyer, while Keene Curtis essays four extremely difficult and varied roles as assorted representatives of the power establishment with which the Rothschilds must cope.

But they're not enough.

A line like Meyer's commentary about entering heaven, the camel and the needle — "if you're rich enough you can find an awfully tiny camel and an enormous needle" — can't be improved upon and the "The Rothschilds" is full of such gems.

But they're not enough.

current production is far too cold, but one thing Yellen doesn't have to worry about is his extremely witty use of the epigram.

But they're not enough.

But they're not enough.

Meadowbrook prepares for season

Terence Kilburn, Artistic Director of Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre has announced plans for the theatre's 1970-71 season.

The local, resident, professional theatre will open its fifth season with Thornton Wilder's comic free-for-all of the human race, the skin of our teeth on November 5.

The eight play schedule also includes Life with Father, which still holds the record for Broadway's longest running comedy, opening on December 3.

January 7 is the date for unveiling a revival of Arthur Miller's The Crucible. Considered by many as the author's greatest work, The Crucible deals with an individual's defiance of a repressive society.

Moliere's classic of satiric wit, Tartuffe, will begin its run on February 4.

Works of a more contemporary nature will usher in the spring season with The Rainmaker, is a poignant comedy about a charming confidence man who turns life upside down for a lonely, young spinster.

Edward Albee's Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? will bow on April 1 with the now-famous couple, George and Martha, playing their cruel games of violent communication.

An eccentric Pied Piper leads his happy band of Manhattan nonconformists against the system in Herb Gardner's A Thousand Clowns opening on April 29.

Meadow Brook will salute the spring season and present its first musical when The Fantasticks opens on May 27 as the last offering of the theatre season. The whimsical comedy by Harvey Schmidt and Tom Jones has delighted audiences around the world and has been playing continuously Off-Broadway since it first opened in May of 1960.

Kilburn also announced that the Meadow Brook Theatre will run each of its eight productions, at its home base on the Oakland University campus in Rochester, for three weeks. The fourth week of each play will again be performed at the Detroit Institute of Arts. A major season subscription campaign will kick-off within the next two weeks.

For the first time Meadow Brook will offer double-header performances on two Saturday evenings during the run of each play. The twilight (6 p.m.) and evening (9:30 p.m.) performances will be held on the final Saturday (third week) at the Meadow Brook Theatre and on every Saturday at 6:00 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. when Meadow Brook performs at the Arts Institute.

For season subscription information, please call 962-0353 or 377-2000, extension 2305.

Borge is special guest

Victor Borge, the popular Danish-born musician-comedian, will be the featured guest at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's annual Maintenance-Pension Fund

Benefit Concert on Saturday, January 16, 1971. Appearing with Borge in his program, "Fun With Music," will be soprano Marilyn Mulvey and pianist Sahar Arzruni. Borge will conduct the Symphony and perform as piano soloist.

The symphony's special Contributors Concert on Sunday, February 28, 1971 will present Morton Gould conducting a program of light classics.

Shriner to assist at 'Night'

Harman Sperry of 6736 Whitby St., Garden City, will be assisting Detroit Tiger team physician Dr. Russell Wright as co-chairman of the Aug. 25 "Shrine Night" at Tiger Stadium.

Between the games of the Tiger-Angels two-night double header, the Shriners in Detroit will present a colorful costumed extravaganza featuring a marching band, oriental band, kiltie band, drum and bugle corps, motorcycles, Keystone Kops, mini-bikes, mini-autos, clowns and a horse troop.

Proceeds from Shrine events help support the group's hospitals for crippled and burned children.

There is virtually no university in the United States with a higher proportion of black students than Wayne State University, save only the southern Negro colleges, so it was probably inevitable that the pressures to add black curricula would ultimately lead to a black theater sequence.

A schedule of classes has been announced for this fall including two major black productions at the Bonstelle. But the black theater got off to a more modest start this summer with a studio production of "We Righteous Bombers."

Studio productions at Wayne are housed in an intimate off-Broadway type chamber underneath the Hilberry. During the winter they serve almost exclusively as production workshops in which advanced students can

by L.M. Boyd

Faces — Does your right eye look exactly like your left eye in reverse, young lady? If not, that's good news maybe. A medical scholar contends any girl whose eyes don't quite match in all probability has a fascinating personality. Such a girl, he says, tends to have two sides to her nature as well as to her appearance. For instance, she is apt to be hot tempered at one time, but exceedingly gentle at another. Possibly so. All I know is the most intriguing faces are usually the least symmetrical.

Boss — Say two dogs are walking towards one another. One starts to wag his tail slowly. That doesn't necessarily mean a fight. But if the other one also starts to wag his tail slowly, that does indeed mean they'll fight. Definitely. Or so a canine expert says. The slow tail-wag, he contends, is a dog's declaration he intends to be boss.

Hair today, gone tomorrow — That some baldness is hereditary no doubt you know. But were you aware it is through the mother's side of the family, not the father's, that such be inherited? So if your dad or his dad is bald, young fellow, don't worry. That doesn't mean you'll lose your hair. But if your mother's father is bald, or his father before him, then maybe, just maybe.

Body odor — What a fellow eats has much to do with how he smells. Garlic, alcohol and coffee, for instance, taint the perspiration in a most distinctive manner. Animal trainers have to be particularly conscious of this, it's said. If a lion tamer were to change his diet drastically, he thus would change his characteristic odor, too. That would be dangerous. Because the lion recognizes the master mostly by sense of smell, and if said master slipped into the cage emitting unfamiliar fragrances, said lion might just take a swat at him.

Love and war — Any single girl who wants to elicit proposals from 30-year-old marriageable males might consider this. Her chances are twice as great if he's a widower than if he's a never-married man. They're three times as great if he has been divorced.

Mrs. Tree — The eldest daughter marries first. That's the role in India's orthodox Hindu families. So what if daughter No. 2 gets a proposal before daughter No. 1? Nothing to it, the family swiftly marries daughter No. 1 to a tree. Daughter No. 2 then marries her man. And daughter No. 1 subsequently divorces her tree. Unless, that is, she was inadvertently married either to a poplar or a teak. Those trees are sacred. And any girl married to one of them would not be allowed a divorce.

from the Carroll Richter Institute

General tendencies: Your intuitive perceptions are very accurate now. To get the fullest benefit it is necessary that you listen quietly to your hunches instead of being so preoccupied that you lose this powerful effect on your life. Attend to artistic and entertainment projects.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can complete a difficult task now and handle personal matters as well. This will allow time for biggest interest about to come up. Be more interested in the romantic. More happiness can be yours.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Doing something special for good friends shows you are most considerate. Plan a social event in the evening or accept a fine invitation extended to you. Take time for some reading, too.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Handle outside duties in connection with furtherance of career or where civic affairs are concerned. Show higher-ups your finest talents. Avoid persons who want to take you off on tangents.

Moon children (June 22 to July 21) You have made new and impressive contacts and they can be of assistance to you. A good time to expand activities. A trip soon could prove most profitable.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Now is the time to handle obligations most efficiently and speedily. Show you are most inventive and ingenious. Show those little kindnesses to please loved ones. Be happy.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Sit down and talk with associates, about what can improve your future and cement better relations. Put new plan across with the public in general and meet with greater success. Be wise.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Showing that you know what is expected of you and doing your work efficiently brings fine results. Add color and artistic pieces to your abode, office and make it look bright and cheerful. Be sociable tonight.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Recreations that bring relief from worry adds to much happiness. Then you can carry on better in the days ahead. Put talents to work that will impress others favorably. Do some tall thinking tonight.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Spend more time at home today than you have lately. Make sure that all is running smoothly there; add comforts, etc. Avoid situation that has been causing trouble. Make plans for travel later.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Improving routines should occupy much of your time now, since there is little else that is inspiring right now. Take care of correspondence, do your shopping, make everything attractive and clean around you. Keep busy.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan how to save more money in the future and build up your assets. Listen to what a business expert has to suggest so that you become more successful. Stop all that dreaming and sleeping — there are opportunities all around you.

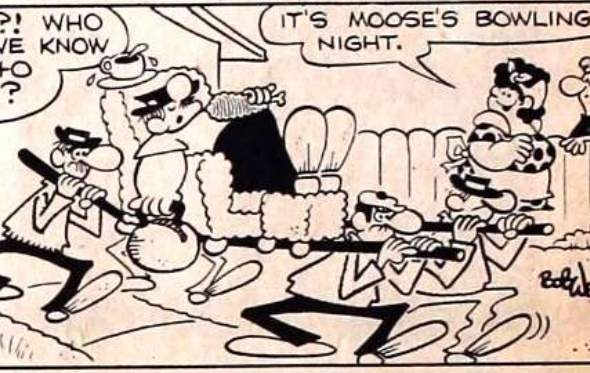

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are one of those talented individuals who will develop the right idea for advancement today. Show your finest abilities. Improve health so that you can carry through later in fine condition.

If your child is born today... he or she will be one of those intelligent young people who wants everything to work properly and who has much ability at the artistic and making life more pleasant for everyone. Be sure to give a combined course of education that stresses both business and art. Teach early to concentrate on the big issues and not to spend too much time on minor details. Avoid tendency to feel sorry for yourself.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Lake Villa Apartments debut at open house

OPEN HOUSE - Lake Villa Apartments, Belleville Area's newest apartment complex held open house last Thursday. The first phase of a development calling for 600 apartment units, is located near Belleville Rd., and I-94 Expressway overlooking Belleville Lake. Left to right, inspecting the new apartments, are Morris Levine, Van Buren Township engineer; Royce E. Smith, mayor of Belleville; Theodore H. Kuckleman, executive director of Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce; Edward C. Stoelton, Van Buren Township supervisor; and Norm Ziegelman, architect and representative of Village Apartments.

INTERIOR VIEW - This is one of the available apartment units at Lake Villa Apartments, near Belleville Rd. and the I-94 Expressway. The first units of the 600-apartment unit complex were put on view at an open house last Thursday. The Apartments overlook Belleville Lake.

The first phase of the Belleville area's newest apartment development, located just south of I-94 Expressway, near the Belleville Rd. exit, is nearing completion.

The new apartment development, known as Lake Villa Apartments, held open house festivities last Thursday. Many area residents and officials attended.

The initial phase of the proposed 600-unit apartment development consists of 120 one, two and three-bedroom rental apartments, all with balconies or patios. The units have central air conditioning.

Buildings now being readied for occupancy have a contemporary flavor. Ziegelman and Zeigelman of Birmingham are the development's architects.

"The planning concept of the project is to provide a recreational environment through which people can take advantage of lake frontage," said Norm Ziegelman.

Automobile traffic is restricted and controlled so that one may walk to all recreational facilities without crossing roads, parking lots, etc.

"A great deal has been done to hide the automobile and to take advantage of the natural assets of the site such as fingers of a natural heavily treed ravine running through the site. This ravine in turn provides natural drainage for the entire area," Ziegelman added.

A swimming pool and pool house plus a marina for boating are just some of the amenities the project has to offer.

"The landscaping follows the rolling terrain with a Japanese flavor of large pine trees as an overall theme. The use of natural materials is used throughout the buildings giving the project a feeling of serenity, nestled into the landscape," Ziegelman said.

There are 70 two-bedroom, two-bath apartments, 30 three-bedroom apartments and 20 one-bedroom apartments units. Floor areas run from 750 to 1,280 square feet and the rental range is from $160 to $260 per month.

The Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS) recently pinpointed the Belleville area as one of the fastest growing and most rapidly changing areas in the state and is linked primarily by I-94 Expressway and the future I-275 Expressway which run adjacent to the project site.

"Because of this fact, it was felt that the development of the region from Detroit to Ann Arbor, will have a direct impact on the housing needs in Van Buren Township," Ziegelman said.

New Fair rides

VIEW No. 6495 1426 S. Mill Chet Snyder, WH 1-3021.

promise fun

New rides and old favorites will provide fun and excitement on the Midway at the 1970 Michigan State Fair, which runs from Friday, Aug. 28, through Monday, Sept. 7, at the Fairgrounds, Eight Mile and Woodward, Detroit.

One of the top attractions on the Midway will be the Giant Wheel, one of the two largest ferris wheels in the world.

Back again are the traditional, always popular rides such as the merry-go-round and the drive-yourself bump-em cars.

Competing with them for the attention of the young and young-at-heart will be a number of new rides, including the Saturn 6 to give youngsters a taste of space-age thrills; the huge new Bubble Bounce, a spinning and bouncing delight; the Swiss Toboggan, for a thrilling ride; and the Zykron sky dive ride.

Several shows and fun houses will provide added thrills and excitement.

Ride and show prices will remain the same this year, despite the inroads of inflation, said E.J. (Jeff) Keirns, State Fair general manager.
